

PERSIA SWEEP BY REVOLUTION

Capital Is In The Hands Of The Nationalists, Who May Cause Heavy Fighting.

SHAH MAY ABDICATE IMMEDIATELY

Foreigners Are In No Danger, As Russian Troops Are On Hand To Prevent Any Attacks Upon Them—
Situation Is Critical.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Tehran, Persia, July 13.—A thousand Nationalists entered Tehran at

SHAH OF PERSIA AND HIS YOUNG SON, THE HEIR APPARENT TO THE THRONE.

Five o'clock this morning and the entire northern section of the city is in their hands.

There has been some fighting in the streets, but as a general thing the Nationalists are preserving excellent order. They are sending out their patrols through the city.
The Shah is expected momentarily to take refuge in one of the foreign legations.
The Royalist troops have taken up positions in the central square and surrounding streets.
It is believed the Nationalists will attack their position with full force if they do not surrender.
The safety of foreigners does not appear, at this writing, to be seriously threatened.
The Russian forces are on hand to protect foreigners in case it is necessary.
The revolutionary forces were considerably disheartened by their complete rout at Shahabad. Had they been successful here there is little doubt but that the present Shah of Persia would now be either executed or exiled.
There is a strong sentiment in favor of a constitutional government, and those closely in touch with the forces at the capital maintain it is only a matter of time before the people will gain their rights, just as they have in Turkey.
Thus will another absolute monarchy pass from the world. The "Land of the Lion and the Sun" is ruled over in the most despotic fashion known to modern government.
The Shah, whose official title is really Shahshah, "king of kings," is the master of the lives and goods of all his subjects and his will is the acknowledged law of the state.
The only restriction is that no law may contravene the doctrine of the Mohammedan religion. The Shah is aided by a responsible ministry fashioned after the European model.
The present Shah, Mozaffar-ed-din, succeeded to the throne on the assassination of his father, May 1, 1896. The heir apparent is still a young boy and it is very doubtful if he will ever come to the throne.

Wolgast has displayed unusual ability and cleverness in all his recent bouts and there are many close followers of the game who predict that the Milwaukee boy will be able to hold his own against the champion at ten rounds. Owing to the thousands of fans who are in Los Angeles attending their national convention the club management expects a record-breaking crowd at the ring-side.

The winner of the bout is expected to get a match with Jack Johnson.

ADVERSE WITNESSES IN GINGLES TRIAL

Give Testimony Against the Little Irish Lacer Maker of Chicago.

Chicago, July 13.—Benjamin Bronson, a carpenter at the Wellington hotel, who was the first to find Ella Gingles in the bath room, was the first witness called when the trial of the young Irish lace-maker was resumed today. He declared, in his opinion he could have tied himself in the girl was tied.

Dr. W. O. Krohn, a specialist on nervous and mental diseases, testified he examined Miss Gingles at the hospital. In describing her condition he said that aside from a slight trembling of the fingers and tongue, she was normal.

"How did she act when you touched her wounds?"
"Why, when she was looking she would scream with pain; when her attention was distracted she did not show any signs of pain."

Head of Green Bay Reformatory Tells of Need of Resident Physician.

Green Bay, Wis., July 13.—Superintendent Bowron of the Wisconsin state reformatory was before the board of control this morning and was questioned in regard to the management of the institution. Mr. Bowron said he did not think Dr. Leontyev had as right and as thorough an examination over Smith as was required and that he thinks the institution is in need of a resident physician. He claims the reformatory when he first came there was very small and has grown very rapidly, and the board perhaps does not realize the need of a resident physician.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE OR NO WEDDING BELLS

Cupid Will Play Hold-Up Game If Chicago Suffragettes Succeed in Having Their Way.

Chicago, July 13.—Cupid, the mischievous author of hearts and maker of matches, has been pressed into the service of the suffragettes and henceforth shall be condemned, at least in Chicago, to play the part of a hold-up man. At a well attended meeting of the Political Equality Union of this city the first direct step in this matter was taken and hundreds of more or less good looking girls of marriageable age showed the following ominous plodges:

"We, the undersigned, believing as we do, that in the matter of intelligence women are equally endowed with men, hereby pledge ourselves not to marry any man who is not a believer in and active worker for the cause of equal suffrage for men and women."

The ingenious plan of making tender passion subservient to the cause of equal suffrage and of using it as a lever to coerce men to join the suffrage brigade, originated in the fertile and cunning brain of Miss Mary McPherson, secretary of the Bloddy Women's union, who is also an active worker in the Political Equality union. Whatever suggested the idea to her is not known, but thousands of young men with tender aspirations are willing to swear that it was the same old sucker that persuaded Eve to do the famous and so terribly disastrous apple-trick in the young days of Paradise.

Miss McPherson considered her plan not only excellent but also feasible and when she submitted it to her friends, that is those feminist geniuses, they were delighted with it. Many expressed their willingness to sign the pledge at once and some were rash enough to do so. It was considered best, however, to start the movement in proper form and for that reason the meeting of today was called. Miss McPherson explained the plan to her breathlessly listening sisters and their enthusiasm knew no bounds. After the meeting practically all the marriageable members present crowded around the table of the secretary to sign the plodges.

SNELL CASE HAS COME TO FRONT

VERY INTERESTING RECITAL TRIAL BEGINS IN CLINTON, ILLINOIS, THIS WEEK.

Attempt to Break the Will of the Late Millionaire by His Son.

(By Special Correspondent.)
Clinton, Illinois, July 13.—The will be fought out for the second time one of the most celebrated contested will cases in the history of beginning this week will be fought out for the second time. It has come up in the circuit court at Clinton, in DeWitt county, and is the case in which Richard Snell seeks to have the will of his father, the late Col. Thomas Snell, set aside. The litigation involves property to the amount of about $2,000,000, which was accumulated by Colonel Snell in a long and active life, devoted to railroad contracting, banking and other enterprise. Colonel Snell died about a year and a half ago. In his will he left his only living son a bare pittance of $50 per year, it being claimed that he had in his later years become angered at certain actions of the son. Soon after the father's death the suit to set aside the will was filed against L. H. Welton, executor of the Snell estate, by the son. The case was tried once in the circuit court of DeWitt county, the finding of this court being that the will of Colonel Snell was his own will and was made without undue influence, as had been charged in the bill. The case was appealed to the supreme ing introduced to show that Colonel Snell was subject to outside influences during the latter years of his life.

Mrs. McNamara was represented at the trial by a lawyer to look after her interests. Another peculiar circumstance in connection with the case was the making of William Snell, 3-months-old son (Continued on page 6).

TAFT'S PLAN IS ADOPTED

HOUSE VOTES TO LET PEOPLE DECIDE THE INCOME TAX QUESTION.

VOTE RESULTS 317 TO 14

Fourteen Republicans Oppose the Resolution While All Democrats Vote For It—Corporation Tax Amendment to Be Rewritten.

Washington, July 13.—The income tax question now is up to the people to decide through their state legislatures, the house having adopted by a vote of 317 to 14 to submit an amendment to the constitution, as provided by President Taft's plan.

Significant, however, of the attitude of some of the tariff conferees toward White House views is the fact that of the 14 negative votes four were cast by Republicans, members of the house conferees. These were Daisell of Pennsylvania, McCall of Massachusetts, Cullender of Kansas and Fordney of Michigan. This lends color to the report that Chairman Payne is practically the only member of the entire conferees who is standing out for every one of President Taft's suggestions.

To a man the Democrats voted for the resolution. The 14 Republicans who cast their votes against it are: Allen of Maine; Barchfield, Daisell, McCrea and Wheeler of Pennsylvania; Fordney of Michigan; Gardner, McCall and Weeks of Massachusetts; Hill and Henry of Connecticut; O'cott and Southwick of New York; Calderhead of Kansas.

Taft Meets Correspondents.

President Taft met 25 representatives of the newspapers of the country and told them he believed in the widest publicity of the tariff making, but that he would not agree to report progress day by day during the conference. The attitude of the president is that he will not talk with the conferees through the newspapers, but that he is talking to them, and will continue to talk to them directly.

The president is much encouraged over the situation. The members of the conferees committee with whom he has talked have indicated a willingness to accept his interpretation of Republican party promises to the country, and it can be said that he is hopeful that the result will be a bill that he can sign.

But the president has not in any way altered his determination to veto a bill that is not a radical downward revision from the Dingley rates.

To the direct question whether he would stand on downward revision, he answered that he "intended to do what he could for the country."

The corporation tax provision of the tariff bill has been withdrawn from the conferees and will be entirely rewritten. Attorney General Wickham began the work yesterday.

"I do not take this demonstration as a personal compliment," said Senator Beveridge in a brief address. "But I take this gathering as the people's expression on a public question." Senator Beveridge quoted President Taft as saying:

"Revise the tariff downward." "That was not his promise," said the senator, "that was the promise of the Republican party voiced by him."

LOAFERS LOSE THEIR JOBS.

Nagel Shakes Up Department of Commerce and Labor.

Washington, July 13.—The greatest "shake-up" that ever has occurred in the personnel of the Department of Commerce and Labor took place when approximately 100 employees were reduced and the resignations of about ten others accepted.

This action was taken by Secretary Nagel as the result of an investigation into the "efficiency record" of the employees in his department. The reductions were made, it is stated, because the employees were found to have "loafed on the job," while those allowed to resign were found to be inefficient.

HAS RETURNED FROM AN AFRICAN JOURNEY

Madison Man Has Just Completed Tour of the African Jungles.

Madison, Wis., July 13.—Nino days after Taft had taken the oath of office and assumed the duties of president, Arthur B. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop B. Smith of this city, returning from a two years' trip in the Congo region, learned of the result of the election. In Africa he spent his time as a geologist looking after the mining interests of a company of American and European capitalists.

The party arrived at Boma, near the mouth of the Congo river, in June, 1907, and thence proceeded by boats up the Congo and Kasai rivers to Luabala, about 200 miles inland and east from Boma. The trip up the Kasai took about a month. It was originally intended to work the region from Luabala south along the frontier between the Congo (Belgian) and Angola, the Portuguese possessions, but the tribes in the Kasai region were so hostile that the party was compelled to pass that region by and go to another portion of the concession in the region around Lake Tanganyika. The trip from Luabala to Tanganyika was made on foot and required nearly three months' steady traveling.

The country passed through on the trip was friendly, some of the party making the entire journey with only their porters and personal servants and without an escort. Mr. Smith was in the Tanganyika country between Kasanka, which is on the upper reaches of the Congo river, and the lake, for about fifteen months, five months of which he was working either on the shores or close by Lake Tanganyika. The average width of this lake, he explains, is from thirty to fifty miles and its length about 500 miles. It is about 3,000 feet above the sea level. Mountains varying in height from 4,000 to 7,000 feet rise abruptly from the lake. In the high mountain regions the climate is similar to that of Europe. The nights and early mornings are cold, but sometimes forming in the small creeks. When the sun is shining the days are hot.

One of Mr. Smith's camps on the lake was directly across from Ujiji, where Stanley found Livingston on his memorable expedition. Lake Tanganyika is over two-thirds of the way across the continent outward from the Atlantic to the Indian ocean and it takes twelve days' distant from it to Victoria Nyanza, where ex-President Roosevelt is hunting. In many portions of the Congo the sleeping sickness has almost depopulated settlements and villages of the natives.

Mr. Smith left Tanganyika on March 4, for the journey homeward and arrived in New York, July 1, after nearly four months of continuous traveling. From Tanganyika to the Congo river at Kasanka was a twenty day walk. From Kasanka to Leopoldville on the lower Congo he traveled down the Congo river about 2,500 miles in canoe and steambot and two days by railroad. He was thus able to see a great deal of the region as the river flows almost north and south for some distance in the upper and eastern sources, then passing north of the equator about at Stanleyville; thence northwest and west several hundred miles, where it again makes a big bend to the south and empties into the Atlantic about six degrees south of the equator. The ocean journey from the Congo to Antwerp was twenty-three days and thence to New York seven days.

Mr. Smith is now in fair health, although he had several spells of fever while in the Congo. Mr. Smith is a university graduate and was one of the three geologists of the expedition.

WILL BALK BURGLARS

Alarm Attachment on Lock Is Obstacle to "False Key" Men.

If there is one form of burglar that is dreaded by police and householders alike, it is the "false-key" man. He can enter any door that is equipped with the old-style tumbler lock, and he leaves no traces. A Philadelphia man, however, has invented a device that promises to put a stop to the activities of this kind of thief. This device consists of an alarm attachment for doors which rings whenever the bolt is opened. A simple little catch is adjusted under the lock, just back of a projection on the forward part of the bolt. To the catch and the projection are electric wires and when the key is turned and the bolt moves backward to open the lock the circuit is closed and an alarm is sounded. The switch may, of course, be located in any part of the house and during the day is opened, so that the manipulation of the bolt will not sound the alarm. If the lock is picked without a key the result will be the same as the moving of the bolt is the fatal act.

No Longer a Compliment.

It is no longer a great compliment to say that a man is "fionized." In the calculation of the modern huntman the lion is a small and insignificant animal. A real hero should be hippopotamized or rhinocerotized.—Washington Star.

FOOTVILLE.

Footville, July 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pope of Beloit visited over Sunday at the home of N. Charleson.

Next Saturday, at Owen's ball park, the local team will cross bats with Harvard. This promises to be a good game and a large crowd should be present. Manager W. J. Owen is planning to have an umpire from out of town.

Quite a few of our teachers are attending summer school in Janesville, Saturday and Sunday.

the last of the week, after spending a week in Beloit.

Mrs. Harry Howe of Beloit is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ellen Quimby.

Clarence Lacey and wife went to Aberdeen, S. D., the first of last week after their household goods and expect to locate in Janesville.

A Mean Revenge.

"You seem to be considerably elated over something." "Yes, I have a friend who is almost stone deaf. I took him out home with me last night, and my wife had to sit there all the evening and merely nod and smile while he talked."

SOCIETY OF EQUITY WANT TWINE PLANT

Will Continue Fight to Have One Established at State Prison.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., July 13.—That the Wisconsin Society of Equity, the farmers' organization with headquarters here, intends to carry forward its fight for the twine plant the completion of which was refused at the last session, is shown by literature mailed out by the society during the past few days. For the benefit of its members the society issues a paper, which publishes correspondence with its members on topics of interest. The last issue contains a letter from Assemblyman George E. Scott in which he declares that "in my opinion the experienced legislator who would take a quick glance at the lobbyists opposing the blinder twine plant and not be for it, without any further reason, must have been stone blind."

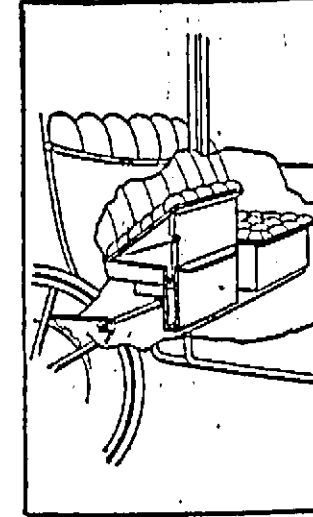

One of the clever pieces of literature is a table showing the members of the assembly on the special committees to investigate industrial insurance, income tax, good roads, water powers and dams, quarry of bank deposits, education and the secretary of the state department. The secretary of the Equity society concludes that out of twenty-eight appointed on the committees, eight voted for the twine plant, nineteen against it, and one vote was doubtful.

They follow a rather sarcastic letter in which it is intimated that some of the men were rewarded for faithful service in voting against the twine plant. The article says: "Another strange co-incidence—take the more important committees—income tax, water power and dams, banks and education, and of the sixteen members, those who voted against the farmers enjoy thirteen seats, while those who stood by the farmers got only three seats. None of these forty-three assemblymen, who 'stood up' and 'stood out' can be trusted to be even be represented on so important committees as banks and education. Anyway the 'two to one' selection is enough to cast a suspicion and to make the farmers 'wake up' and 'get busy.'"

TELLS DISTANCE, TOO.

They close and set in operation an electric registering device, which registers the length of time the person is seated, the number of persons who use the seat and the distance covered during the time the seat is occupied. The last-mentioned facts are obtained by means of a chain gear which is attached to a wheel of the machine, and which works after the method of the device used in taxicabs.

TIME TO ACT

Critics of President Taft should remember that his doctrine is not one of delay, but that he believes that he can gain his net results rather by the use of soft words than wielding the big stick. He has to live with congress after the present tariff law is passed. He must act as President for four years at least and to begin his administration by showing utter opposition to congress would not be wise. He has time yet to act. Really it is the people who have the power in their own hands. If they are not satisfied with their representatives in congress they can change them at the elections every two years for the lower house and every six years for the Senate. Wisconsin will elect a new set of congressmen next year and one United States Senator. If they are not pleased with the attitude of their representation in the halls of congress they can change them at the elections every two years for the lower house and every six years for the Senate. Wisconsin will elect a new set of congressmen next year and one United States Senator. If they are not pleased with the attitude of their representation in the halls of congress they can change them at the elections every two years for the lower house and every six years for the Senate.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE BREAKS ALL RECORDS IN ATTENDANCE.

LIST OF THOSE PRESENT

Work is begun in earnest and is most interesting to the students.

Owing to the record-breaking attendance at the Teachers' Institute now in session at the High School and to the large amount of work to be covered, it was found necessary last night to send for Allen West, principal of the Milton Junction high school and a former teacher at the Janesville high school, who will act as instructor during the remainder of the institute.

Mr. West will have charge of the civics course, Chas. C. Laugel, American literature and algebra. As was expected yesterday the number of inexperienced teachers in Class C proved too large to be handled as one division, so it was divided into two sections. Each section has the same studies but takes them at a different hour.

At the half-hour of general work which precedes the morning classes Superintendent Bagell addressed the entire institute on "Child Management." In his half-hour talk he gave some examples of the faults that teachers are generally called upon to correct, and illustrated the best means of correction and reform by some personal reminiscences of the methods used by Judge Lindsey of the Denver juvenile court.

The second day of the course brought further enrollments so that at the present time one hundred and seventy-eight are taking the work at the high school. They are as follows:

Ether Nordrum, Burnette Sturgen, Nian E. Long, Laura B. Stone, Eva H. Hudson, Rena Merrifield, Nan Brown, Mary G. Brown, K. C. HAPPY HOLLOW FEUD
PARTICIPANT FINED

Edward Urban This Morning Paid $10.20 for Smiling Walford Peterson on Sunday Last.

Deputy Sheriff William Dullen went down to Happy Hollow, which is located between Janesville and Beloit on the Interurban line, yesterday afternoon and arrested Edward Urban on a charge of assault and battery on a person. Urban, a big, strapping youth, looked much heavier and stronger than his usual self, but when, nevertheless, received a severe punishment on Sunday last. It appears that during his fight with Walford Peterson, Urban had been alleged to have been applied to him by the Peterson boy, Urban laid for him for two weeks and when the chance came day before yesterday, proceeded to strike Peterson several times in the face. A Jewell ring which Urban was wearing on his fighting hand cut a bad gash above the complainant's right eye. Judge Held levied a fine of $15 and costs amounting to $10.20, which were paid by Mrs. Urban, also of Happy Hollow and a friend of Urban.

ARGUMENTS IN ONE OF WALRATH CASES

Were Heard in Municipal Court This Morning—All Actions May Be Dropped if Mayor Is Willing.

In the case of the City of Janesville vs. Mrs. Margaret Walrath and her husband, and filed before Judge Field this morning, after which an adjournment of one week was taken. The action was started several weeks ago to recover the additional forfeit provided by law for infractions of the ordinances regulating the saloon business. Mrs. Walrath's damage suit against the Mayor and aldermen is still pending. Both attorneys this morning were disposed to regard with favor a proposition to have both of these actions dismissed, the Union House bar being now an exceedingly dead issue, but it appeared from what Mr. Maxwell said that it would all depend on Mayor Carle's attitude in the matter. Whether or not the proceedings are to be dropped therefore remains to be seen.

SCION OF A WEALTHY HOUSE IN BEET FIELD

Victor Warner of South Chicago Taken into Custody Here on Complaint of Tease Hendricks.

Victor Warner, a scion of a prominent South Chicago family, who is alleged to have relinquished his position as head of one of the steel mills and to have sought a hiding place in this locality in order to escape disgrace, was located by Chief Appleby yesterday afternoon working in Corn Pomeroy's beet field, an employment which has been netting him 80 cents a day for some weeks past. He was arrested on a complaint of a young woman named Tease Hendricks of Chicago and taken back to the metropolis today by an officer sent here by Capt. P. D. O'Brien, head of the detective bureau.

Capt. O'Brien notified Chief Appleby by telegraph yesterday of Warner's presence in this vicinity and of his having secured employment on Al Spaulding's farm north of the city. He was described as being 21 years of age, a six-footer weighing 150 pounds, with brown hair and a gold front tooth. It was the latter item of the description that led to his prompt identification after the head of the local police department had ascertained that he completed two weeks' work on the Spaulding farm Saturday night and had been transferred to the Pomeroy place.

Prior to his employment at the Spaulding farm he worked in the beet fields at Sherran. It was the first manual labor he had ever done.

Warner agreed to go back to Chicago without a requisition. "If they can find me working as a farm laborer out here, I guess it's no use trying to run away," he said. With regard to the complaint preferred against him he said that he had bought the woman clothes and treated her well, but that she was bound to make trouble for him and for that reason he skipped.

MORE WINDOWS ARE BROKEN BY STONES

Last to Have Plate Glass Window Destroyed Is the Nichols Store

This morning business men are much exasperated over the strange similarity in the breaking of large panes of glass in places of business in down town districts. Within the past six months fully twenty large plate glass windows have been broken, evidently by a stone, just about six inches to a foot and a half from the bottom. General appearances are that the stone was thrown from across the street in such a manner that it glanced from the pavement up to the window. The latest window to suffer is that of the Nichols store on South Main street while others which have been broken in the past few weeks are in Burn's store, Kimball's, six in the Norcross property, Koebelin's and Helmstreet's. The insurance men who handle plate glass insurance insist that it has all been done by some insane person and insist that careful watch should be kept to prevent any further repetition of the affair. There is also talk of putting up a reward for the arrest and conviction of the persons.

THE HON. JOHN BARRETT AND THE NEW HOME OF THE INTERNATIONAL BUREAU OF AMERICAN REPUBLICS.

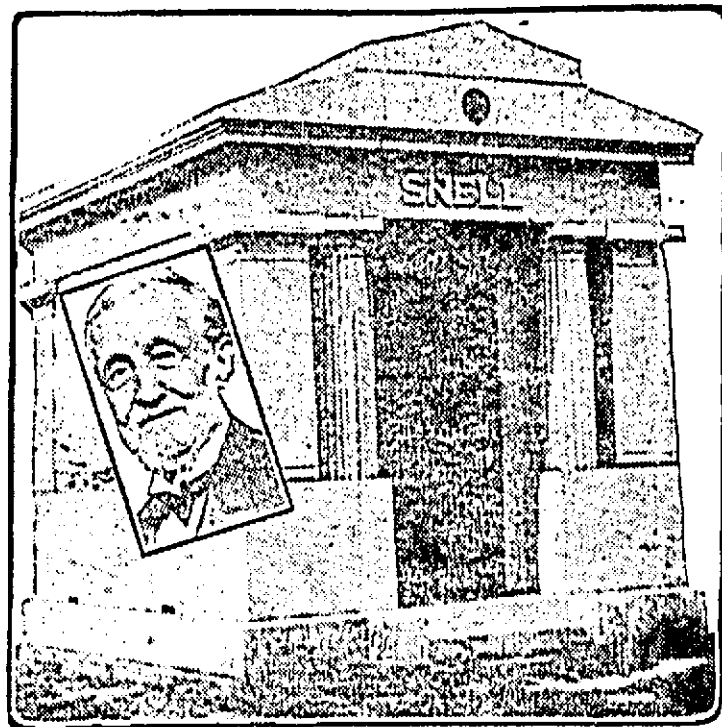

Washington, D. C.—The new home of the International Bureau of American Republics is rapidly nearing completion and it is confidently predicted that when the various officials return from their summer vacations part of it at least will be ready for occupancy. The Hon. John Barrett, director of the bureau, seen in the building the fulfillment of many years of work in interesting the American Republics in such a central home. The work of this bureau is gigantic and they have always been handicapped by lack of room and conveniences. Now they are to have an unusually attractive building entirely to themselves and the way will be open to accomplish even greater results than in the past.

A tunneling machine that will revolutionize mining, tunneling, and subway excavating. Front view showing cutting heads. Denver, Col.—The tunneling machine invented by Mr. Shannon is a success. Many have tried to accomplish this end but never before has complete success attended their efforts. Sometime ago the first regular-sized machine was constructed in the east and shipped complete to Georgetown, Col., where the first contract was let and its behavior eagerly watched. In every instance the rotary proved its value, and came up to the highest expectations. The machine, complete, ready for work, weighs 29 tons, and its length is slightly in excess of 18 feet. This huge frame holds 10 crushing heads, each carried on a 4-inch horizontal shaft and working on the same principle as a stump puller, with the exception that the blows are given with the aid of springs instead of force of gravity. The entire fore part of the machine revolves as it cuts, thus cutting a full, clean hole, all the muck being flushed from the tunnel by means of a 3-inch stream of water, carried directly through the machine under 10 pounds pressure. The immediate use to which this machine can be put to work are innumerable. Subways that formerly took five years to construct can now be run for half the expense in one-tenth the time. Water in unlimited quantities can be brought through the mountain walls to irrigate the vast arid areas of the deserts.

SNELL'S CASE COMES TO FRONT.

(Continued from Page 1.) of Harry Snell of Elkhart, Ind., and a great-grandson of Colonel Snell, a party defendant in the suit at its opening trial. The supreme court cited the fact that this baby—one of the parties in interest—was not made a party to the former suit, as one of the chief reasons why the case was remanded. The Snell baby is now about 14 months old. It became necessary for the sheriff of DeWitt county to personally serve papers on this infant and to do so he made a trip to Elkhart, leaned over the child's cradle and read the paper and then placed the paper in the baby's hands. The little one held the papers a moment, and then cast them from his cradle. This child is the only one of its class involved in the suit. Under the provisions of the will all the property is tied up under a trusteeship for a number of years following the death of the last of the grandchildren and the then living great-grandchildren of Colonel Snell. The property is then to pass in fee-simple to the living heirs. This infant child of Harry Snell is the only heir born since the time included in the trusteeship under the will.

TO ALL USERS OF FLOUR

We are now selling more Flour than any other one store in the city. Why? Because we are selling the which is one of the very best and from 10c to 25c per sack less.

We intend to sell a larger portion. How? Commencing Monday, July 19, we will have a lady at our store to demonstrate to all just what the Flour is. That it is the equal, if not a little better than the Flour you are now using, we care not what the brand. She will be here all that week.

Every family using Flour is cordially invited to witness the demonstration and see for yourself. We claim to make just as white bread, just as sweet, and just as many loaves to the sack as any Flour in the city.

Quality of Falcon

The Columbus Laboratories of Chicago made the following test using the best patent flour made as a standard by which to test Falcon:

CHICAGO, AUG. 25, 1908.
SHANNON & MOTT COMPANY, Des Moines, Iowa.
Dear Sirs: We beg leave to report on Comparative Flour Test as follows:

	Standard Spring Patent.	Sample Number 6941
Gluten—Per Cent	10.5	10.2
Ash—Per Cent45	.38
Absorption—Per Cent	62	62
Color	100.0	100.0
Loaves Per Barrel	100.0	100.0
Size of Loaf	100.0	100.0
Quality of Loaf	100.0	100.0
Average Value	100.0	98.5
Permuting Period	100.0	101.5
Quality of Gluten	100.0	100.0

NOTE.—In the above report the gluten and the ash are expressed in parts in each one hundred parts of the flour. The absorption is the amount of water necessary to add to one hundred parts of the flour to make a dough of standard stiffness. The remaining values are so expressed as to show the relations to the standard flour which for the purpose is given a value of 100 per cent. The loaves produced are made under carefully controlled and uniform conditions and baked in accurately gauged baking cylinders in an electric oven. The value expressed as quality of loaf is based upon the color, flavor and texture of the bread. The AVERAGE VALUE expressed in per cent is the mean value, of color, loaves per barrel, size of loaf and quality of loaf. It should not be taken alone in comparing the value of flour, but each of the factors of which it is made up should receive consideration.

GENERAL REMARKS: 6941 is sample marked Falcon. Aug. 22, 1908. Very respectfully submitted,
THE COLUMBUS LABORATORIES.

WOMEN WRITE TO SNELL

FOR MONEY AND CLOTHES

Newly Discovered Letters Made Public in Will Case—Millionaire's Prayer Repeated.

Bloomington, Ill., July 13.—Col. Tom Snell's only recorded public prayer, made in the presence of Judge Fred Hill and related by that jurist on the witness stand, was the feature of interest in the Snell will case at Clinton when the contestants commenced their prosecution. It was:

"Oh Lord, if you will spare me from another attack of sickness like this last spell, I will be a better man."

One of the recently discovered letters was written by a woman of considerable prominence in Washington. It reads:

"My Darling Friend: I received your sweet letter and I was delighted to get such a dear letter. I am so glad that you feel as you do for me, for darling it is truly reciprocated. I am so glad that my letter pleased you for I know how lonely you are. Last Saturday I had a real disappointment. As I was looking out the window, the express wagon drove up to my door. I thought you had sent me my seal sack. You can imagine my disappointment when I found the package was for the next house. But I know you will send it soon as you promised."

One letter, identified as in the handwriting of Isabelle Snell McManara of Kansas City, the millionaire's favorite niece, to whom he gave a $35,000 residence and money, reads as follows:

"My Precious Darling: I have been out all day and just got in. Now I am counting each day until I see you. I am getting my new dress today, but did not pay for it. Send me some money next week, as I would like to get a traveling dress. The truth is, darling, that I need not less than three dresses to look decent. Now, can you fix your baby up fine, so we can go my place we like and look first class?"

"I am wild to have some fun and determined to have a good time. I have spent my last winter as a hermit. Now, my precious old boy, I am ready to go to Europe or any place to have a good time and a little fun. The devil I care where, so you can put it down that I am ready to start to any place where there is good eating, plenty of fun. Now, my darling, you are baby's idol sure, and baby loves you best of all for ever."

"Now, precious, don't let the weather get so hot that we can't have any fun before we commence our spring pleasure. I send you two million kisses with this. Lovingly,"

ARGENTINE ENVOY RECALLED.

Told to Leave La Paz if Satisfaction Is Not Given.

Buenos Ayres, July 13.—The council of ministers telegraphed the Argentine minister at La Paz, Senor Fonseca, to withdraw from that country in case he is not able to obtain immediate and complete satisfaction with reference to the hostile manifestations against the Argentine republic.

The Bolivian government, according to the wishes of the people and the newspapers, has decided not to accept Argentine's arbitrary decision on the boundary question. This is considered as equivalent to a declaration of war with Peru.

Lima, Peru, July 13.—No fear is felt here that war will ensue between Peru and Bolivia on account of the hostile demonstrations at La Paz since the decision given by President Alcala of the Argentine republic on the boundary limits of the two countries.

Washington, July 13.—The revolution in Colombia is at an end, according to a message which was received by Senor Guzman, the Colombian chargé d'affaires, who rushed immediately with it to the state department.

WIFE OF PRISONER TAKES STAND IN THE INSANITY HEARING.

State Offers to Let Three Altruists Decide Whether Prisoner Is Crazy—Witnesses Say Thaw's Lawyer Talked Rationally to Them.

White Plains, N. Y., July 13.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was prepared when court convened today to take the witness stand and testify in the husband's corpus case in which her husband, Harry K. Thaw, is trying to escape the madhouse of Matteawan.

It is predicted here that Thaw will be victorious in this attempt to gain his freedom. If counsel can agree a combination of three altruists, mutually selected, will pass upon the question of his sanity.

Prosecutor Makes Big Concession.

After a string of witnesses who testified to Thaw's soundness of mind had taken the stand, Roger Clark, deputy attorney general, who is conducting the people's case, informed the court that he had been so much impressed by Thaw's intelligent interest in the issues at stake that he was willing to concede Thaw's right to a full and impartial examination. He suggested that counsel for Thaw and counsel for the people agree to a commission of three expert alienists whose decision should be accepted by both parties to the suit without reservations or qualifications.

Charles Morsclem, for Thaw, was agreeable and asked that Dr. Tinker, superintendent of the state asylum and Dr. Austin Flint be named as two of the three.

Justice Mills favored the suggestion for a commission, but was of the opinion that the state ought to name two of the three experts. With that exception, he left the proposal to the commission to be determined by joint counsel.

Mrs. Thaw on Stand To-day.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw today has been living in retirement of late, may take the stand today. She has abandoned vacation plans, it is announced, to appear for her husband. The testimony heard from jailers, janitors, a dentist and a reporter—each called by Thaw, was uniformly in his favor. Witnesses related conversations with him on music, dogs, cigars, literature, electricity, geology, physics, literature, sport, religion and the personality of the late pope, Leo XIII.

One of the witnesses learned from Thaw that the Stone Age should be placed some 500 years back. An luncheoner thought Thaw perfectly sane except that on one occasion he refused the witness' invitation to take a drink with him. He admitted under cross-examination that he had known rational persons to decline a drink.

Witnesses Tell of Conversations.

Richard H. Lansing, a real estate dealer of Poughkeepsie, testified that he had conversed with the plaintiff on a variety of subjects at different times and that Thaw had always appeared coherent and rational.

Oscar Mulford, another citizen of Poughkeepsie, who formerly was a watchman at the Dutchess county jail, testified that Thaw's actions and conversation were sane.

Priest Also Testifies.

Rev. Father Luke J. Evers, pastor of St. Andrew's Roman Catholic church in New York and chaplain of the Tombs prison, told of various conversations with the prisoner in the Tombs prior to his commitment to Matteawan. Father Evers said Thaw displayed a broad knowledge of the criminal law and the history of the church in his conversations with him. John J. Hanley, assistant warden at the Tombs, while Thaw was there also gave testimony favorable to the prisoner.

HUNDREDS WITNESS SUICIDE.

Illinois Girl Plunges from Window of Milwaukee Museum.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 13.—Hofore hundreds of persons who were on the street in front of the big building, Stella May Dunn, daughter of Bloomington, Ill., committed suicide from yesterday afternoon by jumping from a second story window of the Milwaukee Public Museum building.

Following a severe shock of nervous prostration several months ago, Miss Dunn was brought to Milwaukee and became a patient at the Milwaukee sanitarium at Wauwatosa. In company with her mother, who has been in constant attendance upon the girl, a trip to Milwaukee was proposed to gether with a visiting brother. She tore herself from the grasp of her aged mother and a brother and jumped through the window.

Gingles' Prosecutor Threatened.

WHAT HAPPENS IN ONE DAY'S TRAVEL

STRANGE CONVERSATIONS AND FUNNY QUESTIONS.

SOME ARE MOST INSISTENT

Passengers on Trains Seek Information in Most Amusing

Manner.

There is a saying, accepted implicitly by all conductors, brakemen, ticket agents, freight agents, in fact,

by all those who in any way come in contact with the great traveling public, that if there are any congenial idiosyncrasies, temperamental peculiarities, or to use the unvarnished term, any "craziness" in a human being, it will surely come out while traveling. Not all the travelers who pass the life of a conductor by pondering questions take into consideration the fact that it is his daily portion to listen to this same sort of querulous cross-examination every day, and exclaim against his occasional sharp rejoinders when some of reiterated query is shot at him.

The following little incident illustrates the inherent, fundamental and incredibly stubbornness carried on a train entering Elroy. A young man, whose character could be easily be-seen in the following conversation,

The lady stops the conductor as he hurries through the car.

"Conductor," she asks nervously,

"Do I change trains at Elroy?"

"That depends on where you want to go," is the answer.

"I want to go to Camp Douglas."

"Then you'll have to change at Elroy," replies the conductor starting to move away.

"No, I don't," is the positive assertion of the questioner, as she grasps the official's sleeve, frustrating his attempt to retreat. "No, I don't."

"Madam," says the impatient conductor striving to disengage himself,

"If you wish to go to Camp Douglas,

you must do exactly as I tell you.

You must leave this train and take another. I'll show you where to go."

"You don't have to show me because I know that I don't have to change trains. The man told me so."

"Who told you so?" asks the now fully aroused conductor.

"The man who took my trunk to the station told me so, and I know that I don't have to change cars."

Her listener utters a gasp. It may be either surprise or amusement.

"Listen to me carefully, Madam," he manages to exclaim at last after a violent effort to subdue his "Amusement." "When we get into Elroy,

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

the lady stops as I'm telling you. When

It was addressed to another road."

"I know he got the letter because it was addressed to a railroad agent and if he was the only one there he surely would get it. Even if the address did read to the other road, I've got a letter here in which I have explained the case just as it happened and I want you to address it to the proper official. Can you not take the matter up yourself and tell this agent that he should tend to the duties of his position properly?"

"Hardly, madam. I am only a telegraph operator here, and the burden of complaint. The person to whom you should write is Mr. C. A. Calum.

He has charge of these things."

"Very well, if you will not take the matter up, and it seems to me that you are neglecting your duties just the same as this other agent. I'll send this letter to the name you gave and see if something can be done. I think the railroad should look out for the interests of its patrons and if I did not address the letter correctly, it was hardly my fault as either agent would do just as well and I'm sure it was not my part to know that there was only one station there and

JANESVILLE TO HAVE BIG

CIRCUS.

Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth Down for Early Date.

The early appearance by Janesville of the Barnum and Bailey greatest show on earth is the best kind of news to those who love the circus.

The date of the engagement is Friday,

July 30, and, unlike former seasons,

the parade will not be omitted.

For more than fifty years the Barnum and Bailey circus has been the leader in amusement affairs. In all big undertakings it has been the pioneer. Almost without exception the great arena acts originated in Europe. They invariably have been introduced to America by the Barnum and Bailey management. Other circuses have attempted to follow in its path, and from time to time they have picked up a morsel dropped from the Barnum and Bailey feast and raised a great cry in advertising it, after the act had outlived its usefulness as a first season novelty.

Such has been the history of the circus business in America. The Barnum and Bailey circus has originated

the great attractions or searched them out from distant lands, while the other shows have copied what they could and with indifferent success.

The Barnum and Bailey management has had the advantage above all other shows a prestige and strong influence in every land on earth. It has agents in all parts of the world over

A Grand Band Coming.

On Sunday, July 18th, Marco Vessella, a wonderful Italian band leader, will begin a series of concerts at Harmon park, Rockford, Ill., where he will be heard twice daily for eight days, playing concerts of mostly popular music, such as will please everybody. This young director, who although not so well known here, but who is famous to those who have visited Atlantic City, where he played on the "million dollar" pier for a considerable time, has been a musical lion on the Pacific coast and particularly in Los Angeles, where he has been employed by the municipality for two years.

Of all the Italian leaders, young Vessella is the best educated and most refined, with courtly manners and bearing, and a distinguished and attractive appearance that makes him a general favorite. His family in Italy is of the better class, his father being the mayor of the town of Arde where Marco's early life was spent, and in which city he was the leader of the municipal band for a term of years, before coming to America. What young Vessella has done in the past four years has been on his own merits and he has attracted such attention and met with such success that he finally attracted the well-known band manager, Howard Fox, of New York, who has taken hold of him and is giving him every opportunity to progress. The very finest and best of the Italian artists have been engaged for the band and have been playing for their salaries and Manager Fox says that this band contains the very best individual talent of any band in the country today. Every member is of the highest ability and they have been trained to the highest degree of efficiency by Vessella. This fact that this band has been engaged for the very best places in the country for the season is an assurance of their rare merit. They opened their season at the Zoo, Cincinnati, played eleven weeks at Sans Souci park, Chicago, one week at the resort of Chicago's "400" known as Ravinia park, two weeks at Electric park, Kansas City, and then eight weeks at Rockford, Ill., then to the big Boston food show. This gives some idea of the standing of the Marco Vessella band in other places as well as the assurance of what may be expected here, in the way of meritorious concerts. Signor Marco Vessella is a younger brother of Oreste Vessella, who is well known in Cincinnati and is at present playing on the "steel pier" in Atlantic City.

Begin the Day With Delight

In the morning when preparing for the day, give your stomach light, nourishing food—and the new hot fruit table drink. It will provide you with nourishment, strength and vigor in the form of a delicious, fragrant beverage.

Bonano

And at noon and at night again the same wholesome liquid goodness—Bonano.

Bonano is the only hot table drink which can be used seven days a week, three times a day, with only good results.

Bonano is the rich, fully matured meat of the banana, gathered in the tropics, and then dried, granulated, roasted and blended. It makes a golden brown fragrant, snappy beverage.

Because it is nothing but pure fruit in the most palatable and digestible form, you cannot tire of it, but will like it more every cup you drink, every day you use it.

And every cup you drink will put vim into your step, brightness into your eyes, and sunshine into your smile.

There is absolutely nothing but banana in Bonano, no adulteration, coloring or flavoring matter of any sort—just liquid goodness.

A 25 cent can from your grocer's will make 75 cups—a cost about half that of coffee.
